MAYOR REOPENS FIGHT ON UNION DEPOT WATER AND ICE RUIN HUNDREDS OF MILES OF TELEPHONE LINES IN WESTERN PART OF THE STATE

SUBJECT IS SET FOR DISCUSSION AT SPECIAL MEET
Council Called to Gather in Session at City Hall Next Tuesday Night
ALDERMEN WERE DELEGATED TO INTERVIEW RATE BOARD
Report Expected on Movement to Dismiss the Case

The fight on the union depot project is to be renewed in the common council next Tuesday night. Included in the matters to be considered at this meeting, according to a call filed by Mayor Bentley with the city clerk Thursday morning, is the application to have the Union depot case before the railroad commission dismissed. At the January meeting, the council authorized appointment of the mayor and two aldermen to interview the governor to ascertain why no decision has been reached relative to the construction of a union depot here.

In the absence of Mayor Bentley from the city, it was learned Thursday from W. P. Roelitz, president of the council, that the mayor authorized Aldermen Stoenard and Newburt to interview the governor regarding the matter. No report has been received relative to the outcome of the interview, or whether such interview was held, according to Mr. Roelitz.

Other Matters Up

It was announced that aldermen having special business to come before the meeting Tuesday night will notify the city clerk by Friday. Proposed street improvement work for the coming year will be discussed at the special meeting, it was announced.

The mayor's special committee will hold a meeting previous to the council meeting on Tuesday evening for the purpose of discussing street improvements. The city clerk announced that the meeting of the highways and public utilities committees which was to have been held last Tuesday evening was postponed until Friday evening of this week.

MARCHING CLUBS PRESENT WATCH TO WILLIAMS AT FEAST
General Chairman Winter Carnival Honored at Banquet of Progressive League
R. O. KINNEY ARRAIGNS JAZZ TENDENCIES OF THE TIMES
Bootleggers Who Seek to Wreck Government are Flayed

FOLKS, I guess you've got my coat.

With these words, injected into the middle of his speech Wednesday night at the eleventh annual banquet of the Progressive league in Trinity Lutheran church, Charles and Sill Streets, R. O. Williams, general chairman of the La Crosse winter carnival committee, broke down and wept, as he looked at the watch which had been presented to him as a token of esteem and memory by the marching clubs that participated in the carnival.

"I've had a lot of packages handed to me in my time," continued Mr. Williams after he was able to control his emotions, "but most of them had bricks in them, none of them ever contained anything like this."

He has to make speech.

Mr. Williams had been invited to attend the dinner as a guest. He was told he was going to hear some nice things about the winter carnival. So, he, like 200 others, braved the rain, sleet and frozen streets to attend the banquet. He was placed at the speakers' table. "No, he was assured by Harry Spencer, toastmaster, he would not be called on for a speech; he was merely to lend additional dignity to the speakers' table. Then, the first thing after the dinner was over, Mr. Spencer up and presented Mr. Williams with a handsome gold watch and chain. And then Mr. Williams had to make a speech after he was promised he wouldn't have to make one.

"We live in a wonderful city," said Mr. Williams. "We have the great river, the valleys, and lakes and smaller rivers—a wonderful playground. We are all boys once and there's lots of play in us yet. The only trouble in the past has been that the spirit of play has been bottled up. What we needed was to get the cork out of the bottle and let the energy out. That was the main idea back of the winter carnival."

Gives Praise to Others

Denying Mr. Spencer's assertion that he was the man who made the first two winter carnivals in La Crosse huge successes, Mr. Williams said: "There were Carl Schaefer, Wittich, Dittman, Von Wald and many others who did most of the work. The carnival wouldn't have been a success if it hadn't been for them."

"I have a few hours a day that I am always ready to assist in any project that benefits the community. That Brindley of the Roosevelt company had the right idea about this carnival. He said:

"We are in an unromantic business. We deal in bathtubs, gas pipes, sewer pipes and so on. We come down to the office in the morning. Everybody hustles to get to his desk and just mumbles 'Good morning.' 'Good morning.' 'Morning.' 'Morning.' 'Morning.' and that's about all there is to it. Now, the carnival has promoted a better spirit among everybody in the place. We found out that this person could play a piano, that person could sing and so on. We got to know the other fellow."

Thanks Marching Club

Mr. Williams then thanked every member of a marching club who subscribed to the fund to buy the present.

But the presentation of the watch to Mr. Williams didn't end the gift giving. Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Schmolz were the next to be honored. On behalf of the Progressive league, Mr. Spencer presented Mr. and Mrs. Schmolz with a fine platinum-finish vegetable plate, because, as the toastmaster said, they did so much to make the float entered in the carnival parade by the Progressive league possible.

"It's the same with me as with Mr. Williams," said Mr. Schmolz. "You folks have got my goat. I am not a speechmaker but I wish to thank you all for this fine gift. I want to say, however, there is no north side and south side any more, neither is there a North Side Progressive league. We have one city and one league, the Progressive league."

Former Treasurer of U. S. Beggared By Failure; Was Partner of Noted Plunger
NEW YORK.—John Burke, former treasurer of the United States, (thrice governor of North Dakota, is reported to have been beggared by the failure Wednesday of the brokerage house of Kardos & Burke, of this city, in which he was a partner. Burke is said to have lost everything in the collapse. The liabilities of the concern are said to be anywhere from $700,000 to $1,500,000.

Bankers in New York say that Mr. Burke was an "innocent dupe." His partner, Louis Montgomery Kardos, has been one of the spectacular figures of Wall street. Nine years ago he was a poor Hungarian immigrant. He was employed as a messenger for a financial house, getting $10 per week.

ROMA ACCIDENT WAS DUE TO COLLAPSE OF CONTROLS IS CLAIM
Elevating Rudder Buckled and Craft Does Nose Dive Declares Air Service Chief
NO EXPLOSION UNTIL SHIP HIT THE EARTH SAY OFFICERS
Army Inquiry Board in Session to Probe Catastrophe

NORFOLK, Va.—A statement by Major General Mason M. Patrick, head of the army air service, that he believed the destruction of the airplane Roma was due to an accident to the controls regulating the altitude of the craft stands out as the only official statement from any of those investigating the accident; which Tuesday caused the death of 31 persons, the injury of eight others and the demolition of the world's largest semi-closed airplane.

Meanwhile the army board of investigation, called into session Wednesday, continued its hearings behind closed doors. None of the proceedings were allowed to seep out of the quarters occupied by the board.

Rudder Collapsed

General Patrick expressed his opinion on the basis of testimony he had heard thus far and substantiated statements previously made unofficially by survivors of the wreck that the elevating rudder, a contrivance resembling the wings of an airplane and attached to the stem of the Roma, buckled and fell forward, forcing the craft into a nose dive which ended when she crashed into a high power electric transmission line, caught fire and burned with the greater number of her crew and passengers pinned beneath.

Only a tangled mass of what was once the steel framework of the proud queen of the army air fleet remains to mark the spot at Hampton Roads army base where the Roma fell. Meanwhile at Newport News, where the dead were taken, relatives and friends arrived to identify the bodies and make arrangements for having them removed to their homes for burial.

No Fire in Air

It was reiterated by army officers that there was no explosion or fire while the Roma was in the air. General Patrick, who came here by airplane from Washington immediately upon being advised of the accident, declared there had been none, adding that the fire and resultant explosion were caused by the high tension electric wires which the Roma struck when it plunged to earth.

Army officers also emphasized that the rudder had given way and that the fire did not occur until the ship struck the electric wires.

Speed up Investigation

Just how long the official investigation will require was not indicated, although every effort was made to complete it as quickly as is consistent with a thorough probe of the entire situation. The board of investigation consists of Major D. Johnson, chairman, Major J. H. Jones and Major J. McNulty of Langley field. They have interviewed all the survivors of the accident and are questioning eye witnesses and technical experts as well as others.

Five of the eleven injured men who were first taken to the public health service hospital now have been found strong enough to be removed to Langley field. They were Major J. D. Reardon, Captain Walter J. Reed, Lieut. C. H. Welsh, Sergeant Biedenbach and Corporal Morris.

A small morgue in Newport News housed the dead, 30 of whom had been identified Wednesday night.

Detroit Arrest Opens New Line of Taylor Clues
LOS ANGELES.—That the arrest of Harry Fields, held in Detroit, who asserts that he drove the car which carried the slayers of William Desmond Taylor to Taylor's house, has opened up new avenues of investigation was announced by the Los Angeles police Thursday.

Acting on information given by Fields the police renewed the search for the gun used to kill Taylor.

The police also are looking for a bank teller whom Fields declared changed a thousand-dollar bill to pay him the $300 he says he was given for driving the murderers to the Taylor apartment.

PETITIONS FOR WAGE CUTS FILED BY ALL BIG ROADS OF U. S.
Wage Docket Closed by Rail Labor Board with 175 Petitions on File
HEARINGS ON WAGE DISPUTES SCHEDULED TO BEGIN MARCH 6
Roads Seek Restoration of Scale of May 1, 1920

CHICAGO, Ill.—The railroad labor board announced pay reductions for ten thousand stationary railroad firemen and others by cutting off over-time except after ten hours and approving eight hour split shifts within any twelve hour spread.

CHICAGO, Ill.—By The Associated Press.—More than 175 railroads, including every big transportation line in the country except the Pennsylvania railroad, had filed petitions for wage reductions for all classes of employees when the wage docket was closed at the United States railroad labor board Wednesday.

Unexpected counter proposals for wage increases were filed by seven labor organizations in addition to the increase of 13 cents an hour over present wages asked by the six rail way shop crafts unions, as announced two months ago.

Hearings on the wage dispute for all classes of employees except the five train services, the engineers, firemen, conductors, trainmen and switchmen, will begin March 6, the roads' submissions generally seeking restoration of wages paid prior to May 1, 1920, when the board's first wage award, amounting to $800,000,000, became effective. The cross petitions for more pay range from 6 to 13 cents an hour.

WIRES, RAILS ARE DISABLED OVER THE WHOLE NORTHWEST
Twin Cities Cut off From East and South as Snow Piles on Top of Ice

TRAINS STUCK IN DRIFTS THROUGHOUT THE DAKOTAS
And Down in Illinois the Thermometer is at 70

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Steel and snow continued to fall in various sections of the northwest Wednesday and rail and wire communication was seriously hampered. No relief appeared in sight early Thursday.

The Twin Cities were isolated from the east, wires between these towns and Chicago being down. News reports of the world's happenings were received via New York and Winnipeg.

The head of the Lakes country, including the Minnesota Iron range, was fighting its way out from under more than two feet of snow which fell in the last 24 hours and which was continuing.

Street railway service in Duluth, Superior, and the range cities was abandoned and railroads cancelled their trains. A 50 mile wind from the northeast piled snow drifts many feet high.

Trains Stall in West

In North Dakota, several freight trains were tied up and passenger trains were running behind schedule with a light snow being drifted by a wind which in some sections reached a velocity of 30 miles an hour.

All freight traffic in and out of Minot, N. D., has been stopped and all city traffic there was tied up by a high wind piling up drifts. Jamestown reported three inches of snow and Bismarck six.

In central and southern Minnesota sleet, rain and snow fell last night and rail movements hampered somewhat. Wire communication with some sections was completely interfered with. At midnight the storm had reached the western portion of Wisconsin and was nearing the Twin Cities.

All train service to the west was abandoned at 10 p. m. and east-bound trains were proceeding under "safely" signals, with little prospect of keeping schedules.

Train Service Stops

FARGO, N. D.—A severe blizzard raged unabated throughout North Dakota Thursday with the result that passenger and freight train service on branch lines was practically at a standstill, while coast trains were running on broken schedules.

Reports from the larger cities in the state indicated that intracity traffic while seriously impaired, was not completely blocked. However, with a steadily rising wind blowing a six inch snowfall into almost impenetrable drifts, it was apparent that streets would soon be blocked to street car and vehicle traffic in many instances.

Big Livestock Losses

Country roads are blocked by drifts and it is feared by local stock men that severe loss to livestock will result if the temperature dips to 15 below zero mark, the maximum set by the local weather bureau.

Just Wait, Illinois!

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—While the Northwest fought heavy snows and sleet, central Illinois, clothed in winter garments, sweltered in what is believed to be the warmest February day in more than twenty years. The temperature at the local weather bureau read 70 degrees.

Trains Stuck in Drifts

ABERDEEN, S. D.—Approximately five inches of snow had fallen here late Wednesday and the storm shows no sign of abatement. The temperature is dropping rapidly. The Minneapolis and St. Louis Railway reports that none of its trains are operating west of Watertown, while the Chicago and Northwestern has trains stuck in drifts at Redfield and takes.

Storm Causes Wreck

A Chicago Milwaukee and St. Paul freight train, coming from east and a switch engine collided at a crossing in the Milwaukee yards here. The terrible snow storm, raining all day made it almost impossible for engineers to see ten feet away.

TWO FAMILIES FLOODED OUT
Flood damage due to three inches of rainfall was reported in the city today, when it became known that two families the Wimmers and Hickeys had been forced out of their homes, at twenty-first and Farnam streets, by water entering the houses. Both homes are located in hollows.

A cow in a stable in the rear of the Wimmer home was found standing in water over two feet deep. A goat was almost immersed, only its head remaining out of water.

The families found refuge in the homes of neighbors.

In various sections of the city, flooding of basements, barns and sheds was reported. Four feet of water was found in the basement of the Norby store at Nineteenth and Jackson streets.

Mr. Burgess is manager of the La Crosse, Wis., Tribune and Leader-Press. Mr. Tufford is publisher of the Clinton, Iowa, Advertiser. F. W. Starbuck, Racine, was elected director for Wisconsin.

The association adopted a resolution to appeal to congress for a reduction in second class postal rates which have been raised four times since July, 1918.

Fred Mann, of Devil's Lake, delivered the advertising address which made him a national figure.

The Inland Daily Press association is composed of daily newspapers with membership in twenty odd states including such publications as the Chicago Tribune and Chicago Daily News. It is economic in its aims and employs co-operation and organized effort in the solution of the more important newspaper problems which affect all newspapers. It has grown in a few years from a small group of publishers until today it ranks second only to the American Newspaper Publishers' association in size and importance.

FLOODS DRIVE FARMERS OFF THE LOWLANDS
Train Service Handicapped When Railroad Transmission Lines Break Down Under Weight of Ice
DAMAGE IS MOST SEVERE IN HISTORY OF THIS SECTION
Street Car Service in La Crosse Crippled Today When Power Line Breaks

Summary of storm damage: Hundreds of miles of telephone and telegraph wires down. Thousands of shade trees felled by weight of ice. Railroad service abandoned on Preston branch of Milwaukee road. Lowland farms flooded. Basements in city flooded, and two families driven from homes at Twenty-first and Farnam streets. Trains delayed by flood and blizzard. Street car service in La Crosse demoralized. Forecast: Colder weather with zero temperature expected.

LA CROSSE is in the throes of the worst mid-winter storm ever experienced.

With hundreds of miles of telephone and telegraph wires down, street car service crippled, trains from one to twelve hours late, railway farms and roads flooded and large sections of the rural districts cut off from communication with the outside world, western Wisconsin, northeastern Iowa and eastern Minnesota residents are struggling through adverse weather conditions and attendant damage without parallel in the history of this locality.

The most serious damage has been experienced by telephone and telegraph companies. Literally hundreds of miles of rural and long distance telephone lines are down in western Wisconsin. Over wide sections of territory poles broke down with the weight of ice on wires and cross arms, snapping off in many instances close to the ground.

Miles of Wires Down

In other places huge trees fell across lines, breaking wires and aiding in snapping off near-by poles. On the tall lines of the La Crosse Telephone company going eastward, the first damage of this sort was found just east of Medary, five miles from the city. Near West Salem a number of poles were snapped off.

Between West Salem and Tomah miles of telephone lines and telegraph lines are down. Railroads suffered with the telephone companies in the ruin of transmission lines.

In Tomah, as a result of huge shade trees breaking down under the weight of ice, only one street is open to traffic.

In all directions out of Tomah, Sparta, Bangor and West Salem, rural telephone lines are broken down.

On Brinkman Ridge east of La Crosse miles of rural lines are lying in the snow along the highways, with poles broken off in many cases close to the ground.

Situation Discouraging

Manager W. F. Goodrich of the La Crosse Telephone company said today a week would be required to re-establish telephone connections to some of these localities.

Work of repairing the rural telephone lines is handicapped by road conditions. Finding it impossible to use motor trucks the linemen are traveling by team to make repairs on the lines. Because of the widespread damage, it is impossible to restore all of the lines. Work is being centered on the main long distance lines and telegraph lines to restore communication between terminals.

Leased Wire Down

The Tribune found itself again today without leased wire telegraph service. A fragmentary telegraph report sent out of Chicago on commercial wires did not begin to arrive until noon.

Efforts were being made by the La Crosse Telephone company to get a wire through to Prairie du Chien and

The day was the 10th of October. The victors were drawn up in two lines a mile long on the right and left of a road that ran through the autumn fields south of Yorktown. Washington stood at the head of his army on the right, Richmond at the head of the French on the left. Behind on both sides was a great crowd of people to watch the ceremony. Slowly out of Yorktown marched the British colors, ensigns, drums beating a significant English air.

"The World Turned Topsy-Turvy," Lord Cornwallis was sick. General O'Hara bore my lord's sword. As he approached, Washington saluted and pointed to General Lincoln, who had been treated with indignity at Charleston. O'Hara handed the sword to Lincoln. Lincoln at once handed it back and the surrender was over. Between the lines the British marched on and stacked arms in a nearby field. Some of them threw their muskets on the ground and a British colonel hit the butt of his sword from rage.

As Tarleton's legion went by, three pairs of eyes watched eagerly for one face, but neither Harry nor Captain Dave Yandell saw Danc Grey — nor did Erskine Dale.

XXII

To Harry and Dave, Danc Grey's absence was merely a mystery — to Erskine it brought foreboding and menacing fear.

He started for Red Bank and with every mile suspicion and fear grew. The distance to Williamsburg was soon covered and skirting the town, he went swiftly for Red Bank.

"Stop!" he cried suddenly, as a negro came thundering blindly on. Erskine swerved aside, and Ephraim shot by pulling in with both hands, and shouting:

"Marse Erskine! Thank God you've come." When he wheeled he came back at a gallop — nor did he stop.

"Come on, Marse Erskine!" he cried. "Come on, sub!" Firefly was ahead, and neck and neck they ran, while the darky's words confirmed the instinct that had brought Erskine.

"Yassuh, Miss Barbary gwine run away wid dat mean white man, Yassuh, 'is very right."

"No, sub, he got an officer an' four sgers wid him."

"Does he know that Cornwallis has surrendered?"

"Oh, yassuh, he do!" Miss Barbary said. "That's why he says he got to get away right now an' she got to go wid him right now."

"His artention," the negro went on, "he got his American uniform. He

TODAY'S BEAUTY TALK

You can enjoy a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist a package of camphor and dissolves a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid — enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and hair until both are entirely covered by the delicately perfumed preparation that thoroughly dissolves and removes every bit of dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a richness and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.

way an' dey goin' on an' sail fer England."

"You jest wait in dat thickel next to de corner o' de big garden," said Ephraim. "Dey won't know I been gone. I'll come to de thickel an' tell you de whole lay o' de land."

Erskine nodded.

More quickly than he expected, he saw Ephraim's figure slipping through the shadows toward him.

"Dey's just through supper," he reported. "Miss Barbary is up in her room. De sgers down dar by de wharf playin' cards and drinkin'. Dat odder man been drinkin' hard."

"Ephraim," said Erskine quickly, "told Mr. Grey that one of his men wants to see him right away at the sun dial. When he starts, you run around the hedge and be on hand in the lashes."

Soon Erskine saw Grey's tall figure emerge from the hall door. Grey came swiftly down the great path. As Grey neared the dial, Erskine moved toward him, keeping in a dark shadow, but Grey saw him.

"Well, what is it?" Erskine stepped out into the moonlight with his cocked pistol at Grey's breast.

"This," he said quietly. "Make no noise — and don't move." Grey was startled, but he caught his control instantly and without fear.

"You are my prisoner, Mr. Grey," said Erskine. "I could lead you to your proper place at the end of a rope, but I have in mind another fate for you. I tried once to stab you — know no better. You once tried to murder me in a duel and you did know better. Twice you have said that you would fight me with anything any time, any place." Grey bowed slightly. "I shall ask you to make those words good and I shall accordingly choose the weapons."

Grey bowed again.

"Ephraim," said Erskine, "slip in to the hall and bring me the two rapiers on the wall."

"I know more of your career than you think, Grey. You have been a spy as well as a traitor. And now you are crowning your infamy by weaving some spell over my cousin. I can hardly hope that you appreciate the honor I am doing you."

There was the sound of voices, and

The black boy ran down the steps and presently Ephraim was in the shadow of the thickel.

"Ephraim," warned Erskine, "take this pistol. You may need it, to protect yourself."

"Indeed, yes," returned Grey, "and kindly instruct him not to use it to protect you." For answer Erskine sprang from the shadow — discarding formal courtesies.

"In garde!" he called sternly. The two shining blades dashed lightly and answered against each other in the moonlight.

Grey was cautious at first, trying out his opponent's increase in skill. "You have made marked improvement."

"Thank you," smiled Erskine. "Your wrist is much stronger."

"Naturally," Grey leaped backward and parried just in time a vicious thrust that was like a dart of lightning.

"Ah! A Frenchman taught you that?"

"A Frenchman taught me all the little I know."

"I wonder if he taught you how to meet this?"

"He did," answered Erskine, parrying easily and with an answering thrust that turned Grey suddenly anxious. Grey began to breathe heavily.

"I think, too," said Erskine. "Your my wind is better than yours — would you like a short resting spell?"

From the shadow Ephraim clucked and Grey snapped:

"Make that black devil —"

"Keep quiet, Ephraim!" broke in Erskine sternly.

Grey was getting angry now and was beginning to pant.

"Your wind is short," said Erskine with mock compassion. "I will give you a little breathing spell presently."

Grey was not wasting his precious breath now and he made no answer.

"Now!" cried Erskine sharply and Grey's blade flew from his hand and lay like a streak of silver on the dewy grass. Grey rushed for it.

"Damn you!" he raged and wheeled furiously — patience, humor, and caution quite gone — and they fought now in deadly silence.

There was the sound of voices, and

It was evident that the game had ended in a quarrel and the players were coming up the river-bank toward them. Erskine heard, but if Grey did he at first gave no sign — he was too much concerned with the death that faced him. Suddenly Erskine knew that Grey had heard, for the fear in his face gave way to a diabolic grin and he must make it now.

LESS THAN NOTHING.
All nations have him and he has nothing; and they are all wanted to him less than nothing, and vanity.—Isaiah 40:17.

Is it Worth It?

WITH the disaster to the Roma, third of the sort to occur within a few months, one begins to have serious doubts if there is any vital purpose served by the dirigible airship which overbalances the peril which their use entails, at least under present standards of construction. The huge gas bag which must be used for them makes them almost useless in high winds, they are hugely expensive and operating costs are large, because they have from four to eight motors and need large crews. In war even the German Zeppelin, without doubt the best development so far in the dirigible field, was of doubtful usefulness compared to the airplane, and in commerce it would seem that the expense, danger and complexity of the big ships would make them of questionable value despite their greater lift as compared with planes.

Air transportation seems to be a certain development of the future, but so far the palm of air conquest without doubt belongs to the heavier than air type of craft. It is quicker, cheaper, and, if the accidents to dirigibles are to be taken as typical of the average hazard of lighter-than-air ships, safer. There are a hundred airplane flights to one dirigible ascension, one feels safe in assuming. The average loss of life relatively to the number of ships and of flights is certainly greatly in favor of the planes.

The United States has not been notably successful with lighter-than-air ships. Indeed, after one or two experiments the government has apparently decided it is better to buy foreign-built craft than to try to build them. And the foreign ships, so far, have been disastrous disappointments. Might it not be better all around for the government to concentrate its money and brains available for aerial development on the heavier-than-air machines which it gave to the world, and in whose development it has been able to keep well abreast of the rest of the world, if not indeed ahead?

In passing, why was the Roma floated with hydrogen? We have heard much about the great advantage to the United States of having the only supply in the world of non-inflammable helium gas, with the use of which airships could not be set afire. It is five years since this discovery was announced. What is the matter with the aerial officials who sent the Roma up inflated with hydrogen, and not with our boasted helium? The answer, of course, is that the supply of helium has not yet been developed. But why has it not?

The Price of Isolation

A GREAT many Americans who think Germany was unfairly treated at the peace conference are among those whose whole notion of a proper foreign policy for the United States is summed up in the word, "isolation." They opposed the League of Nations, they are now embattled against the results of the limitation of armaments conference, and are prepared to fight to the last gasp American participation in the Genoa economic conference. One wonders how persons who are of this frame of mind assess the statement by German diplomatic representatives in Washington in which it was plainly indicated that Germany believes the only chance of getting a practical reparations arrangement must be through the authority of the United States exercised at the Genoa conference table. It is not a question of sympathy for Germany, nor did the German representatives make the mistake of thinking that such considerations would have weight with the United States in shaping its foreign policy. The United States should go to Genoa, they suggest, in order that it may help to obtain an arrangement under which trade between this country and Germany may be possible, as it is not now owing to the vast spread between the values of mark and dollar. Revival of German credit depends upon a workable reparations arrangement. Until this is reached Germany, eager for American farm products and raw materials as well as manufactured goods of many sorts, is effectually blocked from the American market. Germany was always one of our biggest customers, and no doubt much of the dislocation in American business right now may be traced to the absence of German buyers from our markets. If we go to Genoa, as we should, it will be for the practical and utilitarian purpose of creating an international business condition which will permit American trade to prosper. To oppose such participation in world affairs is to put one's weight upon the side of continuing the present industrial and trade depression in the United States. The United States, if it wants "isolation", must pay a heavier price for it than nine-tenths of its advocates realize.

Here's a Hero

IN your list of heroes and excellent citizens, include the Rev. T. C. Martin, Methodist minister, now retired, at East Longmeadow, Mass. For forty years his salary averaged only $800 a year. Yet he put his five children through college. When money ran short, he cobbled shoes on the side. Millions of others, like him.

Parents, in old age, would never be neglected if children realized the heartaches and self-denial involved in that most difficult of all tasks, rearing children properly and "giving them a better chance."

La Ye Olden Times

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

It became known today that motormen and conductors have what they consider a grievance against the La Crosse Street Car company in the number of hours in the day's schedule. They say the company has failed to live up to a promise to revise the time schedules made at the time the strike of 1909 was settled by the board of arbitration. The question of "dead time," the time the men are required to hold themselves in readiness for duty without actually being at work, is the principal grievance. They claim no pay for this "dead time" but are not at liberty to attend to affairs of their own.

Where Men Were Scarce

BY MONA COWLES

Jane Burdard in college had vowed that she would never teach. She and been encouraged by the success that met some of the girls who had graduated from Reynolds College in war days. But the men were back from the war and wartime stress of business was over. The situation became apparent to Jane Burdard when, a week after her graduation from Reynolds, she discovered the best job that she could find through the agencies and newspaper want advertisements was that of a learner in a candy factory at $12 a week or a job selling ribbons in a department store at $15.

So Jane decided to teach. But she knew her friends and classmates would not forget the derisive remarks she had expressed about the teaching profession.

"I know why you don't want to teach," said her younger brother, "you think that teachers never meet any men, get to be old maids and never marry. You're afraid you won't get a husband."

Jane Burdard was annoyed. "Precious little use I have for men," she snipped. "And just to show you I'm going to start in teaching next autumn."

But Jane didn't want to face the inquiring faces of her friends after she had begun her career as a teacher, so she chose to select from the positions offered to her that of teacher in a district school in a remote end of the state. It helped a little to feel that she was filling a job that no one else wanted. A special appeal had been made for teachers for these remote districts where several schools had actually been closed down because no one could be induced to take the positions. Moreover she wanted to show that impudent brother of hers that men didn't count in her career.

Human beings of all descriptions were scarce in the rocky region around Berwick district school, but men—young men—were singularly infrequent. "You'll be perfectly safe to live alone in the little cottage that goes with your job," the county superintendent of schools had told her. "There isn't a man in the district, not even a tramp. Oh, there's the minister and the doctor and a dozen old farmers and old Stebbins that runs the store, but they aren't likely to annoy you."

So Jane Burdard was installed as district school teacher in Berwick township, pleased in knowing that, though her salary was not large, she did not have to speed any of it for shelter and would be able to save more than with twice the salary in the city.

For two or three months all went well. It was not until after the Christmas holidays that Jane became disturbed in her little cottage near the school.

One day Jane took pains to dismiss her pupils all on time and overlooked the fact that several of the other children had deserted to "stay in" back in her cottage she donned heavy walking boots and near, though certainly not very jaunty, walking togs.

Then she started out in her search. As she walked through the country roads and lanes that afternoon she enumerated to herself the occupants of the various farmhouses and cottages she passed.

She was looking for something and it was quite apparent that none of the houses she passed contained it. So she walked in the region on the outskirts of her district, where there was an occasional house with which she was not familiar.

Finally she drew up beside a small but recently renovated two room cottage. A man of uncertain age, but surely not aged, was sitting out in the cold winter sunshine on the front steps of his diminutive home. He was smoking in solitude. Apparently Jane had found what she had been seeking.

"Excuse me, stranger," she said, "but I wonder if you will help me. I'm the district school teacher, and I've been out looking for—well, the truth is, I've been looking for an able-bodied man. They are all either old or feeble up by the school. I wonder if you would do me a service."

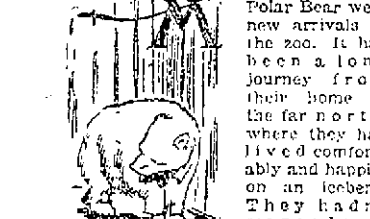

The rather unkempt young man rose with alacrity and good manner that rather surprised Jane. "By all means—I'd do anything in the world you asked me."

"Well, I'll tell you," Jane said, a little embarrassed at the obvious anxiety of the young man. "I live alone in the cottage. Lately some one has been prowling around—seems to be a man and I hear him every evening about time I'm getting ready for the next day's lessons. I don't want any of the neighbors to know I'm timid. Besides, I am quite as well able to protect myself as any of the men down there. Fancy old Doctor Warren or Parson Jones trying to stand up against a man-sized tramp. So I've been looking around trying to find a—well, a regular man. I thought maybe you'd come down one or two evenings and when the prowler appears you'd go out with me to scare him off. I'm a little afraid to do it alone."

John Dawson, the young man thus addressed, insisted on coming over that very evening and then he introduced himself. Jane showed her good faith by asking him to return with her then. It would be nearly twilight when they returned and the prowler usually came as soon as her lamps were lighted.

ONE REEL YARNS

R. AND Mrs. Polar Bear were new arrivals at the zoo. It had been a long journey from their home in the far north, where they had lived comfortably and happily on an iceberg. They hadn't wanted to go south at all, and had grumbled all during the trip. And it was that they had reached their new home they found many things to complain of.

"I shall never be able to stand this heat at all," said Mrs. Polar Bear. "It must be fully twenty-five degrees above zero."

"I understand it gets even warmer," her husband grumbled. "Oh, for a nice ice floe to sleep on!"

The worst, however, was yet to come. The apartments on either side of the P. Bear family happened to be vacant when they moved in. A week later there was a commotion in the place on the left, and Mr. and Mrs. Bear saw that they were to have neighbors.

"Good heavens," said Mrs. Polar Bear, "will you look at the bear family that moved in next door. They're both of them as black as can be!"

Mr. Polar Bear stared, with open mouth. "So they are," he said, "imagine living next to such dirty people. That's what the city has done for them. Thank goodness we have enough self-respect to keep ourselves from ever getting like that. We shall certainly have nothing to do with such filthy people. To think 'ave to live next to them!"

"Those people next door," said Mrs. Black Bear, "can't be respectable. Their hair is all bleached, instead of being as nature made it. We'll have nothing to do with them."

And the keeper never could understand why the Black Bear and the Polar Bear families stay always at opposite ends of their cages.

THE HURDY-GURDY MAN
Scene: A poorly furnished attic room. A pale-faced little girl is sitting in a big chair, wrapped up in a comforter, so that only her face peeps out. Hilda, an older girl, is busily sweeping, humming a little as she works.

HILDA: I won't sweep very hard so that the dust will make you cough, Mignonette, dear.

MIGNONETTE: I don't mind the dust. It seems that it must be nearly spring, Hilda. I can smell it coming in through the cracks in the window.

HILDA: And you'll smell something else soon, too. In a jiffy I'll put on the fire the finest stew you ever tasted. Mother doesn't know I'm having stew. She'll be so surprised.

MIGNONETTE: She's so tired when she comes home she doesn't notice much what there is to eat.

HILDA: But she'll notice this, I can tell you. And you shall eat a bit of it. You'll want to get up and carry bricks or something.

MIGNONETTE (laughing): You're so funny, Hilda. Listen! What is that? (The strains of a kind organ are heard in the distance, and as the two girls listen, it comes nearer.)

HILDA: I do believe it's a hurdy-gurdy! It's been the longest time since I've heard one. Do you mind if I open the window just a little bit, dear? I don't think you will be in the draft.

MIGNONETTE: Open it, please. I want to hear it.

HILDA goes over to the one window and raises it a little.

HILDA: It's playing in front of the house next door. Isn't that the prettiest thing!

MIGNONETTE: Hilda, do you remember when I could walk, before I was hurt, and you and I used to go down to the sidewalk to listen to the hurdy-gurdy music?

HILDA: Yes, and one time we followed a grind organ man with a monkey away down the street and got lost, and the nice big policeman brought us home.

MIGNONETTE: I remember. We never told mother, did we? Listen! Hilda (sticking her head out the window again): He's right in front of this place now.

MIGNONETTE: I used to dance and dance all around over the sidewalk when I was such a little girl and the hurdy-gurdy man came around.

HILDA: Indeed you did, just like a fairy.

MIGNONETTE: I wish I could ever do it again, just once.

HILDA: But I'm sure you will. You've been getting so much stronger. And the doctor said that one day you would walk all right. You've just been afraid to try.

MIGNONETTE: But it hurts so, even to stand up for one little minute. Oh, I love that hurdy-gurdy! He's playing the nicest piece ever. I do hope he won't go away. Haven't you a penny to throw him, Hilda?

HILDA: Not a penny. I used all the money left to buy the stew with. Mother gets paid again to day, you know.

MIGNONETTE: But that doesn't do any good now. I want hurdy-gurdy music. He's stopping! He's stopping!

HILDA: No, he's started another piece again. I'll go look in the bureau. I just happened to think I have some money in a box there.

MIGNONETTE: Hurry, Hilda, hurry! (There is a little silence, during which the music continues. Then it begins to die away.)

MIGNONETTE: Hilda! He's going away! Haven't you found the money? Oh, I want him to play some more! Come call to him! Call to him! He's going! (She stands up shakily and takes a few steps forward, just as Hilda comes into the room.)

HILDA: Mignonette! You—you're walking!

MIGNONETTE: I was going to call him. . . . I forgot I couldn't walk. Catch me, Hilda! (Hilda catches her and helps her into her chair, her face glowing.)

HILDA: Oh, my dear! I found a dime I'd been saving towards going to the picture show some day, but I'm going to run down the stairs like mad and give him the dime to come back and play a celebration concert!

LA CROSSE BOY ON GROUND WHEN HUGE DIRIGIBLE CRASHES

Vincent Plumptre One of the First to Reach Aircraft After the Disaster

Vincent W. Plumptre, son of George Plumptre, 1225 South Twenty-ninth street, was on the ground at Hampton Roads when the big dirigible Roma crashed to earth, killing 34 men, and was one of the first to reach the scene.

Young Plumptre is attending a preparatory school at Hampton Roads preliminary to entering Annapolis next June. Having made three flights in the air during his sojourn there, his father was worried when news of the Roma disaster was received and immediately telegraphed to his son. A reply was received Wednesday announcing that Vincent was not in the dirigible but was nearby and reached the scene of the accident immediately after the big air-craft fell.

U. W. ALUMNI ARE STRONG FOR UNION

University Memorial Drive Gets Well Under Way Says Leader

MADISON, Wis.—After a week's tour in Madison and Wisconsin in the interest of the Memorial Union, Prof. E. M. Gardner has returned to Madison with enthusiastic reports as to the reception given the proposed building by the various alumni.

While in Michigan, Prof. Gardner, also visited at Ann Arbor where he made a detailed survey of the new Michigan union.

Strong in Detroit

At Detroit last week 70 alumni of Wisconsin gathered at the Bohemian and Rush dining room, all interested in starting a campaign in that city to contribute toward the proposed $1,000,000 "Home for Wisconsin Spirit." The men were addressed by Professor Gardner who pointed out some of the chief features and advantages of the Union. A quota of $12,000 was set as a minimum for Detroit and already reports have come in showing an amount raised of $1,000.

Superior has raised one-third of her quota in the last few days. The goal which has been set is $6,000.

Eau Claire Starts

The Eau Claire district of eight counties has been fully organized and according to the latest reports received by the local headquarters has obtained a good start toward its goal.

The drive at Eau Claire was opened by a meeting which was characterized by Eau Claire papers as "the greatest gathering of former students and friends of the University of Wisconsin ever held here." The meeting was addressed by Prof. Gardner, Dean H. L. Russell, and Dean P. Hunt, a regent from the Eau Claire district.

Only two men of the crew of nine carried by the schooner survived and then only after days of suffering.

ITALIAN PARTIES FAIL TO UNITE IN NEW CABINET

Giolitti, Orlando and De Nicola Can't Get Needed Support

ROME.—Dissolution of parliament again looms threateningly on the horizon as a result of the last cabinet's failure to secure the support of the Italian parties. Giolitti, Orlando and Signor De Nicola to form a ministry to take the place of that of Signor Bonomi, which has tendered its resignation. All possible combinations within the ranks of the constitutional parties appear to have been exhausted. The inability to unite under any one man is said to be due to growing gravities since the present parliament was elected last May under Signor Giolitti.

It was during Giolitti's incumbency of the premiership that the elections were characterized by the sectional conflicts between the Fascists and the socialists. Giolitti has incurred the enmity of the Catholics and they have threatened his every effort to organize a new government. Their irreconcilability toward him is due to his upsetting the Fascist ministry by insistent charges that there was excessive Catholic control in the administration.

SAYS MURDER WAS PLANNED IN "HOP" JOINT BY THREE

Says He Is Ignorant of Motive; Got $800 for Driving Machine

DETROIT, Mich.—Two men and a woman plotted the murder of William Desmond Taylor, Los Angeles film director who was murdered February 1, according to a reported statement of Harry M. Fields, now under arrest here.

Says He Got $800 Making public further details of Fields' alleged admission, which included some changes from the story he was at first said to have told officers, Sheriff Irving J. Coffin stated that the suspect told him he knew nothing of the motive behind the slaying and that his only interest in it was the $800 he received for driving the automobile in which the plotters went to Taylor's house to kill the director.

After the shooting, Fields is said to have stated he drove the men and woman back to a rooming house which he characterized as a "hop joint," where the murder was planned. He was paid then, it was added, and left Los Angeles.

Wire Los Angeles

While Fields reported admission that he is a drug addict has caused some doubt to be cast on his statements, authorities here have questioned him closely and have telegraphed a report to Los Angeles. Pending further advice from the authorities there, officials have refused to give any information concerning the result of the quiz to which Fields was subjected, following receipt of questions which Sheriff Traylor of Los Angeles telegraphed to be asked the prisoner.

Vitamines Are in GOOD LUCK

Foods containing vitamines are declared essential for the well-being of children and adults.

Milk is rich in this desirable food element.

GOOD LUCK is largely composed of the purest full cream milk, and is therefore well suited to children's diet. It contains vitamines in large measures. Millions of healthy, happy children eat GOOD LUCK three times each day and thrive upon it.

Refuse to Report for Classes When Washington's Birthday is Ignored

ST. PETER, Minn.—Because they were refused a holiday on Washington's Birthday, the students of Gustavus Adolphus College here absented themselves from classes Wednesday afternoon. They will show up for study as usual in the morning.

This action was decided upon at a mass meeting of 300 students of the college at noon, after no mention had been made in the assembly room of an observance of the day.

President O. J. Oyen Johnson of Gustavus Adolphus explained that the reason for not giving holidays is to reach an early commencement and also that the faculty believed in work during the school year instead of remaining idle.

SEED INSPECTION
BY STATE ASSUMES
ADDED IMPORTANCE

MADISON, Wis., Seed inspection, required under Wisconsin law, will be assuming added importance with the approach of the planting season this spring, the department of agriculture says today in a statement.

The state law requires that all seed packages be labeled so that the purchaser may know just what he is buying. This label must show the name and address of the firm or person offering the seed for sale, the percentage of purity, percentage of germination, and in the case of corn, grain and alfalfa must show where the seed was grown.

If there are noxious weed seeds in the drop seed, the label must tell the variety, the percentage present, which if it totals one to 1000 of the crop seed, it cannot be sold in the state.

Seed samples for testing by the state inspector at the Agronomy building, Madison, should be carefully taken, the department says. If the sample is not a representative one, the seller is liable to a fine of $500.

The danger of spreading noxious weed growth is pointed out by the agricultural department, in urging that farmers and dealers comply with the inspection law.

The Shoe at the Wedding Feast.

The practice of throwing an old shoe after a bride is, it seems, quite misplaced when it is done by some of her companions for luck. According to the spirit of the ceremony, which is of very ancient lineage, it should be done by the parent or the guardian of the bride, as indicating a renouncing of all authority over her. Chieftains in feudal times took off their shoes and handed them to their conquerors in token of unfeigned defeat, from which practice this slipshod-throwing custom is said to have descended.

Cottonseed Oil

Cottonseed, which formerly was thrown away now yields more than a million pounds of oil annually, which is used in enormous quantities in the manufacture of various cooking materials.

D. A. R. ENJOYS
ANNUAL COLONIAL
COSTUME FESTIVITY

AT THE HOME of Mrs. E. E. Dow, 218 South Sixteenth street, Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Dow was hostess to the members of the Daughters of the American Revolution at its annual Colonial party. About twenty-five guests were in attendance arrayed in "yo old time" costume. Many handsome gowns of Colonial days were among those worn and also many others unique and attractive which were representative of various periods indicated, affording much amusement in comparison to the present day styles. Flags gave to the rooms a patriotic appearance. The refreshment table and the piano were featured by Jerusalem cherry trees and the cakes and the confections were in the national colors. A cafeteria luncheon was served. Mrs. Horace K. Holley presiding at the coffee urn and Mrs. F. A. Morley serving the salad. An informal program was given which was greatly enjoyed. Miss Grace Ogden gave a splendid talk on George Washington. Miss Helen MacArthur gave two piano numbers and as a finish to the afternoon's entertainment an old fashioned "spelling down" was indulged in, Miss MacArthur winning the favor.

AT THE MASONIC Temple Wednesday night the ladies of the First Methodist church held their annual Colonial party. Dinner was served to a large number, nearly one hundred paying at the door. About four hundred tickets had been sold previously, but the storm undoubtedly prevented many from attending. The tables were attractive with potted plants and crystal candle sticks holding crimson tapers. Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Dixon represented George and Martha Washington splendidly and all the waitresses were in Colonial costume and snowy wigs which made a very pretty old time scene.

ABOUT SEVENTY-FIVE couples attended the dance Wednesday night given by the Elks at the Elks' hall. The majority of the guests were in Colonial costume and a dainty luncheon was served. Holcomb's orchestra furnished the music.

MR. AND MRS. A. C. Bills, 519 King street, were pleasantly surprised Saturday evening by a number of friends and relatives, the occasion being their second wedding anniversary. About sixty people were present. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. John Gilbertson, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Gilbertson, Bernard Holter and Arnold Gilbertson of Holmen, and Wete Vanderplag of West Salem. The evening was spent playing games, cards and dancing. At twelve o'clock luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Bills were presented with many useful and pretty gifts.

MRS. WILLIAM Drake and little granddaughter, Billie Drake, have returned from a trip to Minneapolis where they spent the week-end with Mrs. Drake's niece, Mrs. Eldon J. Ormond, and family.

MR. AND MRS. H. B. Buchda, 519 North Ninth street, entertained on Saturday in honor of their son, Mr. Fred Buchda, of Cleveland, Ohio, who spent the day with his parents. The out-of-town guests were Miss Mathilda Buchda of Rochester, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. E. Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ortmeyer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bieshoff and family of West Salem. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Weigel, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weigel and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Besoh and family, Mrs. H. Franz and Mrs. William Ortmeyer and children.

MRS. GEORGE R. REAY, 1201 State street, entertained Wednesday evening the members of her birthday club and a few others in compliment to her birthday. Mrs. Reay was hostess to her guests at supper at the colonial party given by the ladies of the First Methodist church at the Masonic temple and later at her home. The table set aside for this group was prettily decked with potted plants and was also featured by a handsome birthday cake, which was decorated with a flag in confectioners' sugar. Mrs. Reay was generously showered with pretty gifts.

MRS. WILLIAM Besoh, 1107 La Crosse street, is visiting at Cleveland, Ohio, with her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buchda.

AN EIGHT FOUND son was born to Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wigger, 1101 South Thirteenth street, at four in the afternoon of Sunday, February 19th, at St. Anne's hospital.

MISS ADRIENNE Rahn entertained a group of friends in honor of her birthday Monday night. The evening was spent in dancing and playing games. A dainty luncheon was served.

INTEREST in the milk week campaign was created at the Twentieth Century club on Tuesday and again at the D. A. R. meeting Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Ann Colman, a professor of home economics at Columbia university, New York city, gave a most interesting illustrated talk upon the food value of milk to the young and to the grown up.

Miss Colman analyzed the composition of milk and brought out how in all elements which go to nourish and build up healthy bodies and alert minds, milk is richer in food content than any other food.

This talk was followed by a lively discussion of the daughters of the number of children drinking coffee in the grade schools in La Crosse and upon the charts which Miss Colman presented showing the quality of other foods it takes to equal the food value of one quart of milk.

Miss Colman is on a year's leave of absence which she is spending at her home in La Crosse.

A PLEASANT farewell party was given in honor of Mrs. J. G. Simonson, who with her husband has since left for California to reside. The honor guest was presented with a purse

The teachers are good and all the high principles of the college are lived up to. The one feature that I have liked is the whole year session.

I surely recommend the school in every respect, and I wish every success to the school and its students.

Wise people know there is a difference in business schools. They investigate. They do not jump at conclusions. They are not convinced by words but by proof.

Thrifty people are always willing to pay what a thing is worth. They know that "cheap" generally means "poor" also, and they know that a cheap education prepares for a cheap position.

The "WRU" appeals to Wise and Thrifty people because it proves what it can do for you by proving today what it is doing for OTHERS.

BUSINESS TIPS

BY ALBERT APPLE

Fire losses in United States and Canada since the first of January have been at the rate of $144,000,000 a year.

This beats all records. Fires in 1906 reached nearly as big a financial total, but prices were lower then, so physical destruction was less.

Insurance experts consider excessive fire losses an indication that much property is being set aside to liquidate credit.

Another cycle of big oil gushers is starting in Mexico, which now is producing a fourth of the world's oil.

Output of American oil has almost doubled since 1913.

Barring possible temporary reductions, the crude market appears stabilized for the balance of 1922.

Gasoline consumption is running big, with less than 40 days' stocks in storage.

Cotton

Domestic consumption of cotton in the last six weeks has been running 40 per cent larger than the corresponding period of 1921.

Bales exported since the first of the year total about a seventh less than the corresponding period of 1921 and 45 per cent less than in 1920.

Dr. George R. Reay has received the announcement of the death of U. E. Beckhorn of Wausau, Iowa, formerly of Hokah. Mr. Beckhorn was an old friend of the doctor and well known in this city.

No Pine Trees in Oil Lands

In some cases the occurrence of certain trees or plants may serve fairly well as an index of the substances to be found under the surface. For instance, it would be foolish to look for oil in a pine forest, for nine-tenths of the oil wells of the United States are in regions where hardwood trees grow, if there are trees at all. In this case the production of oil has been accompanied by that of limestone and shale which, when they disintegrate, form the rich soils on which hardwoods flourish.

Round Chimneys Are Best

A round chimney, while not so easy to build as a square one, has decided advantages over the latter. It greatly lessens the friction between the walls of the chimney and the rising gases, and has the smallest wall surface in proportion to the cross area. The efficiency of a round chimney 24 inches in diameter is almost as great as that of a square chimney 24 inches across.

FARM PRICE FIXING GETS SETBACK WITH RISE OF MARKETS

Leaders Give Up Hope of Passing Measure at Current Session

WASHINGTON.—The tendency of the price of wheat and other grains to rise this month is having the effect of slowing up the movement in congress and through the agricultural sections for revival of the United States Grain Corporation and guarantee of prices of farm products. Proponents of the bill have been practically given up hope of putting through a guarantee plan in the present session of congress.

Canada May Act

OTTAWA, Ont.—It is understood that the matter of establishing a Canadian wheat board has been receiving serious attention at the hands of Premier Mackenzie King and his colleagues. In western Canada the feeling is stated to be, at the present time, in favor of the re-establishment of such a board and the cabinet is expected to reach a decision in the matter between now and the time the house meets on March 8.

MILK IS POPULAR BEVERAGE IN THE COUNTRY SCHOOLS

Interesting Figures Given Showing Growth of Movement in this County

The survey of the city schools on the number of children drinking coffee in the grades of La Crosse caused quite a commotion and many requests have been made for the publication of the results obtained in the rural schools of La Crosse county.

As far as the 66 rural schools reported in full space does not permit us to give the data for every school as was given with the city public schools, but we print below the averages and totals of all 66 schools which are of as much interest as the city grade schools.

56 Rural Schools
Total number of children reporting, 1,297.
Total number of children drinking milk occasionally, 508.
Total number of children drinking milk daily, 973.
Average cups per child, 2.5.
Total number of children drinking tea or coffee daily, 575.
Average number of cups per child, 1.4.
Total number of children using butter daily, 1,258.

While in the city schools little more than one out of every two children drink coffee daily, we find in the rural schools where milk is supposed to be plentiful 29 per cent of the children drinking tea or coffee daily or not quite out of every three children.

In the first, second and third grades at Holmen where there are 71 children, not one child drinks coffee. Each child averages three cups of milk a day.

Milk Through Straw
In the Walker school in the town of Hamilton Miss Dale has 50 pupils. Not one child drinks coffee. Any day one cares to visit this school one will see at recess all 50 children take from his or her desk a straw and a jar bottle of milk, which has quite replaced the all day sucker. From the bright eyes and rosy cheeks it is not difficult to tell and see the result of this milk diet at recess.

Sour Creek—Twenty-four pupils and no coffee drinkers.
Meadow Valley—Twenty-eight pupils and no coffee drinkers.
Prairie-Ranger—Eighteen pupils and no coffee drinkers.
Dutch Creek—Nineteen pupils and no coffee drinkers.
Wilson—Seven pupils and no coffee drinkers.
Bradley school, town of Burns, 20 pupils with one fourteen-year-old girl drinking coffee.
Doesn't this show the proper regard

Nothing is so utterly needless as the suffering from itching, painful corns.

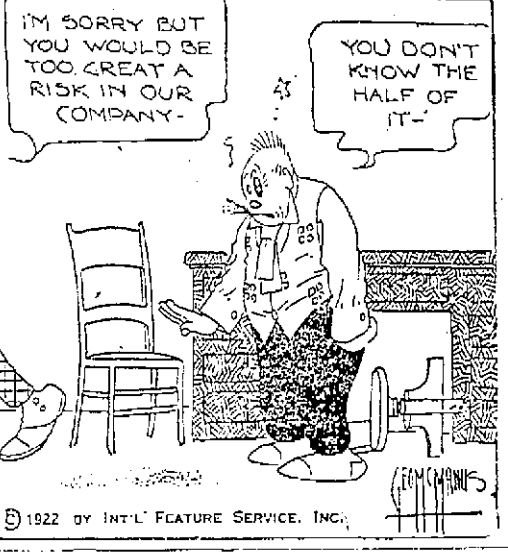

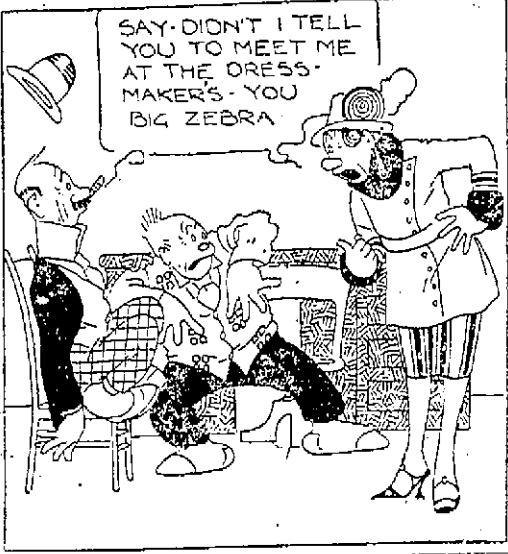

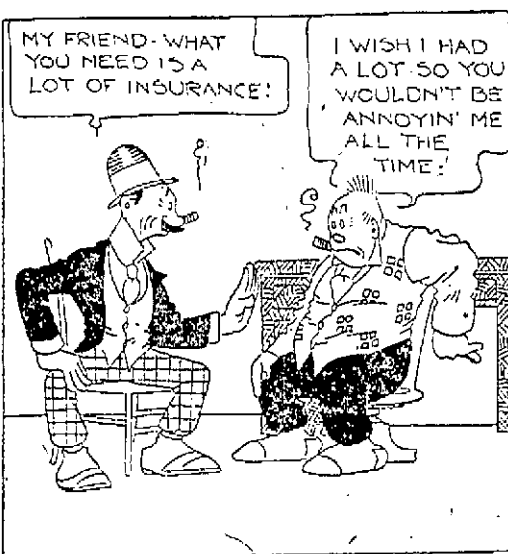

It is as easy to peel off a corn as to skin a banana. Reach in with "Gets-It" and the trick is done. For hard corns, soft corns, any corn or callous. All pain stops instantly and the corn proceeds to loosen and soon can be lifted right off.

for a familiar food with such wonderful health giving properties as milk?

The entire United States hasn't anywhere the amount of milk consumers in proportion to amount of milk produced as compared with other nations.

The United States department of agriculture, dairy division, calls attention to the fact that only 44 gallons of milk is used per person per year in the United States.

This amount includes the amount used in cookery—butter, cheese, ice cream, etc.

As 44 gallons of milk contains 352 pints, one can readily see that less than one pint per person per day is used.

Milk and milk products are not only a familiar food but an economical food.

There is no waste, no husk or core for the garbage can.

Every drop and ounce of dairy products is eatable.

Mrs. Holly, head of the home economics in our public schools, has worked out some interesting comparisons which are given below:

One quart of milk equals 5 1/2 lb. of lean meat in nutritive value.

One quart of milk equals 8 eggs in nutritive value.

One quart of milk equals 6 ounces of bread in nutritive value.

One cup (measuring) milk equals 2 ounces of lean meat in food value.

One cup (measuring) milk equals 2 eggs in food value.

One cup (measuring) milk equals 1 1/2 ounces of bread in nutritive value.

BERKELEY, Calif.—Approximately 2,000 "flappers" are on the University of California student rolls.

Miss Mary Ida Bentley, former secretary of the San Francisco Young Women's Christian association, declared in an address here.

"Flappers," Miss Bentley said, "usually are girls who believe personality is physical, who consider all advice as abstract, who love continual change, who converse in generalities and who are in many higher institutions of learning."

"To present a picture of the normal girls as she exists today is a daring venture," Miss Bentley added. "She has no average, she has no group life. She is a stranger to herself—sometimes especially to members of her own family—and cannot be compared with her kind of a previous age."

"We are tempted to think of her as living in a spirit of misanthropy so rapidly and completely can she assume different and different roles of accomplishment."

"She tantalizes us by the simplicity of her artfulness and yet unreasoning. We find her light-hearted, which is the privilege of youth. She believes with Stevenson that to have missed the joy is to have missed it all."

"We find her harboring secrets and imbedded emotions which are her hidden treasure in the mysterious discovery of herself as a private individual. If we do not understand these symptoms we call it temperament and try to dispose of the girl as difficult or as 'needing discipline.'"

NEARLY 9 MILLION GIVEN TO EDUCATORS BY CARNEGIE BOARD

We Blended Palm and Olive Oils To beautify your hair

This free 15-cent trial bottle contains ample quantity for one luxurious shampoo, no matter how heavy your hair. Use it and watch results.

See how soft it makes your hair, and how fluffy. Admire the attractive, well-groomed gloss.

Notice how clean it leaves your scalp, how all scurf and dandruff are completely removed. Ordinary shampooing doesn't get these results. They are due to palm and olive oils.

Softening cleansers

Olive oil possesses softening qualities which neutralize the drying effects of washing. Palm oil contributes body, richness and lasting qualities.

In combination they produce a thick, mild, profuse, penetrating lather which softens the scalp and reaches every root and hair cell.

This lather loosens the dandruff scales, dislodges and dissolves them, leaving the scalp and hair free to function healthfully.

Prevents Baldness

This thorough removal of dandruff, which doctors call seborrhea, is most necessary, as even the accumulation on healthy scalps injures the hair.

The dry, oily scales clog the roots of the hair, preventing proper nutrition. Soon the hair begins to fall out. Ordinary washing has little effect, often seeming to make the condition worse.

The blend of palm and olive oils you get in Palmolive softens and penetrates the scales, loosening the cap-like accumulation.

Gentle massage forces it into the tissues of the scalp, leaving it healthfully purged and clean.

Silky texture and satiny gloss

Such scientific shampooing is the basis of beauty, for it keeps both hair and scalp in perfect health.

It stimulates circulation, which carries proper nourishment to your hair. It regulates the minute oil glands which give your hair gloss and luster. Hair shampooed with Palmolive is neither brittle nor oily, but soft, glossy and silky.

Present the coupon at once and prove that these statements are true. One shampoo with the blend of palm and olive oils begins the transformation.

15c TRIAL BOTTLE FREE

Present this coupon, with your name and address filled in, to any dealer. It is good for a 15-cent trial bottle of Palmolive Shampoo.

PLAN REHEARSALS FOR MARRIAGE OF BRITISH PRINCESS

Arrangements for Royal Wedding Nearing Completion This Week

HALF DOZEN CLERGYMEN
WILL AID IN TYING KNOT

"Brighter London Week" to be Celebrated by the City

LONDON.—By the Associated Press.—Plans for the wedding of Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles are nearing completion and early frequenters of London streets will see some morning this week empty carriages drawn along the route, escorted by cavalry, in rehearsal of the processions from the palace to Westminster Abbey, no nothing may go awry on the all important day.

In reality there will be two processions on February 28, the day of the wedding. Queen Mary and Queen Mother Alexandra with their escort will form the first, the king following shortly afterward with the bride and an escort.

The route will not be decorated throughout, but there will be two triumphal arches and near the Abbey the roadway will be adorned with festoons of flowers supported by pillars with ornamental devices bearing portraits of the bride and bridegroom.

Every new detail of the ceremony is displayed by the newspapers and avidly seized upon by the public which thus learns that the hat in which the bride will start her honeymoon is of "mole and larkspur blue georgette," the mole to match the moleskin wrap which the princess will wear and the blue georgette to match her dress.

Lots of Knot-Ties

Further details are that the marriage knot will be tied by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Archbishop of York, the Bishop of London, the Bishop of Oxford, the dean of Westminster and Canon Lascelles, the bridegroom's uncle.

SKIRTS SEVEN INCHES FROM GROUND DECREED BY SALVATION ARMY

Order Affects Every Salvation Army Lassie in 77 Coun-tries and Colonies

CHICAGO, Ill.—The skirts of Sal- vation Army lassies must not be more than seven inches above the street level, according to an order issued by Commissioner Wm. Pearl, leader of the organization in fifteen mid-west states.

"A few years ago we were trying to persuade our women to wear them shorter," said Commissioner Pearl in commenting upon the order. "The skirt that trails in the dirt gathering germs is a menace to its wearer's health; but the skirt that flaps around the knees is pretty much of a menace to the modesty of the woman who wears it. The skirt is about the only thing which doesn't appear to be coming down these days and a back to normalcy drive on the too short dress will do a lot to protect the morals of the rising generation." Commissioner Pearl stated that the order would affect every Salvation Army member in 77 countries and colonies where the organization operates with the possible exception of China and Japan where most of the women wear trousers.

APPLEBY WINS CUE TITLE BY DEFEATING COLLINS, 300 TO 108

Was Shortest Match of the Tournament, Appleby Going Out in Fourteen Innings

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Edgar T. Appleby, New York, national champion, added the international title to his list by defeating Percy N. Collins, Chicago, in the final match of the class A 15-2 billiard amateur tournament at the Manufacturers' club. The score was 300 to 108.

It was the shortest match of the tournament, Appleby collecting his total in fourteen innings. His average was 21.6-14, which also was a record for the present meeting. The New Yorker had high runs of 120, 70 and 28, while Collins' best efforts were 22, 19 and 17. Collins averaged 8-4-12.

Hollander Beats Morton

In the afternoon match Roy H. Hollander defeated J. R. Cope Morton, Philadelphia, 300 to 228, giving the Hollander fifth place with two victories and three defeats. Morton finished last, having lost all five of his games.

The completion of the tournament found three players, Edward Raudil, France; Francis Appleby, New York; and Collins, Phila., for second place, each having won three games and lost two.

Big Runs by Appleby

The great performance of Appleby Wednesday was built around his two monumental runs. His cluster of 120, counted on his tenth turn, was punctuated by dazzling breaks, short caroms along the cushions, and amazing cushioning. The American champion was rarely at a loss for the correct shot, moving along with a smoothness that held the crowd. His runs, especially on the lines in this run, was unusually delicate. Eventually the balls rolled a bit widely and he missed a difficult shot, a combination of follow and single cushion.

It was in the third inning that Appleby worked out his run of 78 which was much of the same character, and this was the run that outdistanced Collins.

The latter resorted to some safety play, but it was not effective against Appleby's correct and accurate billiards by which he narrowly missed creating new records.

CURVE BALL HARD STRAIN ON PITCHER

BY WALTER JOHNSON

What type of delivery places the greatest strain on the pitcher's arm?

The curve ball is the toughest ball for the pitcher. It is unquestionably the hardest of all types, unless it is the spitball. I never used the spitball to any great extent. One year, when every pitcher was using it, I learned how to throw it. I did so simply to keep up with the times. I never thought of using it.

Occasionally in a pinch with two strikes on the batter, I would throw a spitball. This great surprise, more than any deceptive break I got on the ball, made it rather effective. One season I threw perhaps fifty spitballs all year, so I am not competent to speak on just what effect its constant use has on the arm. However, the fact that most spitball

Oshkosh Protests Claim of La Crosse Normal To Championship of State

OSHKOSH, Wis.—Normal protest in connection with the claim of the La Crosse State Normal school as winners of the state normal championship has been made by H. A. Brown, president of the Normal school at Oshkosh, in a letter to President E. A. Carlson, of the La Crosse school. His letter read in part as follows:

"I admit that your standing in the conference is 1000 per cent. Our standing in the conference is likewise 1000 per cent. We cannot, therefore, in view of these facts admit that you hold the championship, both teams having played an equal number of games, and both teams having won every game."

"We have thus far played six conference games in the Wisconsin Normal school athletic conference, which is the number of games required by the rules of the conference. All other normal schools in the state except La Crosse and Oshkosh have been defeated two or more times by conference teams."

"We hereby formally challenge you to a series of three games to play off the tie—two to be played at Oshkosh, one at La Crosse and the third, if necessary, on a neutral floor, perhaps in Milwaukee."

or second and third, or third and home, and the batsman elects to take the infield off its guard and try to reach first base, he would have such a right."

Also, if while the batsman is in his box ready to hit the ball, an over throw of some base is made in an effort to retire a runner, the batsman shall have the right to steal first base if able to do so.

These are a few of the situations that might be evolved to give the batsman certain rights as to when he shall be permitted to steal first base.

Giving the batsman the right to steal first base would add two things to baseball. It would naturally cause the players to be more wide-awake, up on their toes, as they would constantly be forced to keep their eye on the batter. It would also add much to the uncertainty of the game. The scores of the game would be much larger, also there would be more base running.

However, it is my opinion that the possible harm that would result would far overbalance any good if Gilliam's suggestion was adopted. It would make baseball too much of a hit-and-miss affair, rather than the well-balanced game it is. The suggestion is far too drastic.

JOIE RAY TAKES MILE RACE IN BOSTON MEET

BOSTON, Mass.—Joie W. Ray of the Illinois A. C. of Chicago easily won the Boston mile run at the American Legion games at the Eastbury Wednesday. Ray, who captured the event last year also, finished fifty yards ahead of Jimmy Connolly of Georgetown, with Mike Devanney of Milwaukee A. C. third. He was not forced at any time, and his time, 4:26 1-5, was slow for so fast a field.

Jack Brisson of Boston college gained permanent possession of the Gaston cup by winning for a third time the Gaston 600 yard run. His time was 1:17 1-5. He had a nip and tuck contest with J. W. Burke of Harvard, besting the tape barely a foot in the lead. Sydney Leslie, New York A. C., finished third.

ART STAFF WINS PRO ICE TITLE AT LAKE PLACID WEDNESDAY

Lamy of Saranac Lake and McLean of Chicago Win Second and Third Respectively

LAKE PLACID, N. Y.—Arthur Staff of Chicago won the international professional skating championship here Wednesday. His score in the events which made up the championship contest totaling 225. Edmund Lamy of Saranac Lake was second with 155 and Bobby McLean of Chicago was third with 120. Everett McGowan of St. Paul and Morris Wood of New York each had twenty points.

In the first race, the 440 yard dash, the skaters were in a jam at the stretch when Staff broke through to take the pole. McLean fell and in the mixup Lamy made up a severe leg wound. McLean sped across the line second, while Lamy took third place.

Half Mile Race to Staff

Staff took the lead at the half in the half mile race, being followed closely by McLean. At the last turn, however, Lamy passed McLean and finished second to Staff.

The three mile race was slow until the tenth lap, when McLean sprinted, upsetting the pace. At the bell McLean took the lead, followed by Staff, but in the stretch Lamy passed McLean, who finished third.

Aside from the professional races, the feature of the afternoon was what was claimed to be the breaking of two world records for backward skating by Valentine Bladi of Lake Placid. He skated 110 yards in 43 3-5 seconds and in the half mile clipped 2:35 seconds from the previous mark of 1 minute 25 1-5 seconds.

PLAN CONSTRUCTION OF 4,000 ADDITIONAL SEATS AT CAMP RANDALL IN '22

MADISON, Wis.—Another section of 4,000 concrete seats will be added to the Camp Randall stadium, of the University of Wisconsin this summer, according to plans now being completed. With this new section, the stadium will contain about 28,000 seats of which 13,000 will be concrete.

The new section, 25 rows high, locker rooms, first aid rooms, showers and equipment rooms beneath, will be built on the east side of the field adjoining the 1,000 seat section that was erected last summer. In addition to this construction, the department hopes to build tunnel entrances from Breeze terrace this year.

Funds for this construction were derived through gate receipts at athletic contests, as were the funds for the section built last summer. Thus, beginning with a legislative appropriation of $20,000 in 1915, which graded the new field and built part of the first concrete section, the Badger athletic department is building its stadium section by section as funds are available.

Stadium building plans for succeeding years include: Completion of lower deck of west side in concrete to 50 rows high with superstructure for upper deck; erection of 28 rows of concrete on south end; completion of lower deck of east side to 22 tiers each on east and west sides of field.

When completed the stadium will resemble a horseshoe in shape with open end toward the north. Its double-deck stands will seat about 53,000 spectators.

LA CROSSE HIGH ON LAST OUT OF TOWN FRIDAY-SATURDAY

To Meet Prairie du Chien and Richland Center in Return Contests

The La Crosse high basketball squad will make its final out of town trip to play scheduled games of the season Friday, when the squad goes to Prairie du Chien for a return game and the next night makes with the Richland Center tilters again. Both of the games played with these teams on the local floor were very hard fought and exciting, and will no doubt be more hotly contested in the return games.

La Crosse displayed wonderful playing in the Madison game, working effectively both on the offense and defense. Since that game Coach Keegan has been working to develop the more technical points in his play. Prairie and Richland are both groomed for victory over the locals as they will have La Crosse on their own floors and the locals play two games in succession. In the event the Keegan machine takes a stride equal to that taken in the Madison contest, there will be no question as to the outcome.

RAY HUEBNER WINS FIRST BLOCK OF 300 POINT MATCH

In the first contest of their 300 point match Ray Huebner checked off 150 balls while Ross Appleman made a total of 122. It looked like a much closer score as the two players were tied at 101, but Huebner put on a burst of speed towards the finish. Appleman, however, believes that he can come back this evening or at least force Huebner to the limit.

By far the largest crowd that ever attended a pocket billiard match in the city of La Crosse witnessed the contest. The final block will be played this evening. Ross Appleman must make 173 points before Huebner makes 150, in order to be the champion pocket billiard player of the city. The game will start promptly at 8 o'clock and is free to the public.

WISCONSIN TAXES SHOW INCREASE OF NEARLY A MILLION

MADISON, Wis.—The tax levy against all general property in Wisconsin, state county and local, increased only $936,751, from a total of $96,268,025 to $97,204,776, during the past year, or less than one percent, Judge Charles D. Rosa, tax commissioner, points out Thursday in a survey of the tax situation.

When compared with the increase of $26,069,289, or 27 per cent during the previous year from 1919 to 1920, there is shown a serious attempt to prevent further rise in taxes, Judge Rosa said. It is his prediction that the total levies of 1922 will show a decrease for the first time in 25 years.

State Tax 4.8 Per Cent of Total

Of the $96,751 increase, $16,082 or 4.8 per cent was due to the increase in state tax, while there was an increase of $1,728,507 in the levy for schools, with the total county levies decreased $179,922, and the total local levies decreased $658,312.

An analysis of the school levies shows, Judge Rosa said, the following increase: in towns from $19,733,548 to $11,527,104, or $793,550; in villages from $2,479,091 to $2,881,929, or $402,837; and in cities from $17,618,945 to $18,151,449, or $532,504.

In thirteen counties, the survey showed, the cities as a whole reduced their school levies. The greatest reduction was $194,245 in Douglas county, while Shelby county was second with a reduction of $179,897. Fifty-one counties increased their levies.

The tax levies for local purposes for towns of the state decreased from $11,859,076 to $11,456,812, a reduction of $200,225, while the same levy in villages increased from $1,938,501 to $2,032,478, a rise of $93,977.

Most Counties Lower

Considered as units, Judge Rosa said, 29 counties increase their levies for local purposes while 42 reduced them. Those showing the largest increase are: Milwaukee, $258,757; Winnebago, $192,778; Lincoln, $164,742; Manitowish, $141,883; Sheboygan, $135,873; Jefferson, $94,082; Rock, $71,892. Those showing the largest decreases are Douglas, $179,897; Kenosha, $260,929; Dane, $177,248; Ashland, $168,130.

While the total of all county tax levies decreased $179,922.50, there were 27 counties which increased their levies over last year. Those showing the largest increases and the amounts are: Wood, $196,223.41; Brown, $155,327.67; Waukesha, $143,375.16; Ashland, $124,745.10; Waubesa, $105,754.07; Walworth, $94,634.11; Rock, $81,432.02; Columbia, $80,332.37; Vernon, $75,758.50; Milwaukee, $61,197.71; Oneida, $42,787.50. Forty-four counties decreased their tax, those having the largest decrease are: Racine, $240,557.10; Dane, $200,043; Dunn, $89,429.80; Shawano, $75,106.50; Iowa, $60,867.34.

Must Stop Spending

These figures show that some have learned that the only way to bring taxes down is for all governmental units from the state legislature down to the school district to stop spending money. Judge Rosa said, "Others have not yet learned the lesson but will. In my judgment the total tax levies of 1922 will show a decrease over those of 1921. This has not happened before for twenty-five years."

"The average state rate to be used this year for the taxation of railroads and other utilities will be .02116, an increase of one-tenth mill over .02106, the rate last year."

TWO TALMADGE FILMS — RIVOLI

Two Norma Talmadge pictures—one made years ago when the two-reel was the very last word in pictures, and the other her latest release—are running at the Rivoli. The theater consented to arrange this interesting and unusual program to assist the Tribune movie essay contestants, who are competing for prizes offered for the best 200-word serial on "How the Movies Have Improved." The comparison afforded by these two pictures is expected to be of great assistance in furnishing ideas to the contestants.

A notable thing about the modern picture of the program is that it marks the screen debut of Mrs. Julia Lydie Hoyt, New York society woman, whose entrance into the film world was heralded recently by the newspapers as a week's sensation.

Mrs. Hoyt is one of the younger ranking matrons of New York and Newport society. She is the daughter of Julian W. Robbins and the wife of Lydie Hoyt, son of an old Knickerbocker family, a Yale graduate, clubman and former deputy police commissioner of New York City. Mrs. Hoyt's grandfather is Hugh Johnson, a former president of the Knickerbocker.

"The Wonderful Thing" marks Mrs. Hoyt's debut as a professional actress. Ever since her marriage a few years ago she has been noted in amateur theatricals of society, and turned to motion pictures as a serious career in escape from "going mad" through the endless calls of society.

FLOWER OF THE NORTH

For scenic beauty, clever acting, intensely human story of life as it exists in the great open spaces, directed by one of the great outdoor directors.

Washing Won't Rid Head Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Reports from other cities state that the production is one of the most humorous ever shown on the screen, and that the De Havens have outdone their former successful efforts.

James Smith, a bible manufacturer is portrayed by De Haven. Smith had acquired so many millions that he decided to go over big. The cast second to none, headed by such well known players as Henry B. Walthall, of "Birth of a Nation" fame, and Pauline Starke, whose work in other Curwood stories has stamped her as an actress of note, is bound to stand out as one of the bright lights in motion pictures of the day.

11 CASES BROUGHT

BEFORE INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION HERE
Two-Day Session Opens to Hear Cases Brought Under Workmen's Compensation Act
The state industrial commission opened a two-day hearing of claims brought under the workmen's compensation act, in courthouse Thursday morning. Because of the storm which delayed persons living in the city and county in getting to the courthouse, the first case was not heard until afternoon. An informal hearing was held in the case of Frank Merrill against the Jefferson Leaf Tobacco plant. The commission was informed that a settlement had been reached without the necessity of a hearing to trial before the industrial commission. The cases set for Thursday are:

A WIRELESS SET IN EVERY HOME OUTLOOK WITHIN NEAR FUTURE

Use of Radio Telephone Extending Rapidly Throughout the Entire State

MADISON, Wis. — The wireless telephone is extending so rapidly as possibilities, that within the next few years practically every home in Wisconsin will be equipped with a receiving instrument. Harry Trumbower, member of the state railroad commission believes.

The fact that instruments may be installed at small cost and require no expenditure to maintain, in the opinion of Mr. Trumbower, means that they will become increasingly popular.

Word has just been received that the American Telephone and Telegraph company intends to set up sending stations in important points throughout the country, selling their service for the distribution of news, musical programs and other announcements.

This is said to open the way to use of the wireless telephone in political campaigns to carry important speeches of candidates and information that the political parties may want to reach the homes of the American people.

The telephone company announcement says that it will "provide channels through which any one with whom it makes a contract can send out his own programs just as the company leases its long distance telephone wire facilities for the use of newspapers, banks and other concerns."

There have been many requests for such service not only from newspapers, and entertainment agencies, but also from department stores and a great variety of business houses. Already the University of Wisconsin is broadcasting musical programs, markets and university news, which are received by hundreds of amateur stations throughout the state.

Receiving instruments may be purchased at a small cost and installed in the home. Farmers especially in Wisconsin are said to have been quick to realize the possibilities of the wireless telephone and to have installed the instrument for receiving daily markets from Chicago and Madison.

Bankers in many communities have put in wireless phones to receive market and other news which they distribute to people in the small towns of the state.

Whose Move Next?

And so the Armenians will move out. Apparently they are beginning to think the Turks don't want them about. —McKeesport Record.

THE STORY BACK OF ROTARY, BY ITS FOUNDER

By ROY GIBBONS

CHICAGO. — "Loneliness is a terrible thing. It shocks the finer sensibilities of man, lowers the ebb of his morale, and by reason of its paralyzing influence, tends to make of him an unsocial animal, neither understanding others, nor understanding himself."

In that statement Paul P. Harris, an attorney here, as founder of a tiny nucleus group of "three kindred spirits" 17 years ago, which today has developed into the International Association of Rotary Clubs, sums up his reasons for establishing the order.

Harris, long and lean of body is now, as always, a battler against loneliness and unfriendliness. One cold winter's morning 20 years ago he rode into Chicago, finishing the last leg of a round-the-world journey.

In his globe-trotting through Europe Harris noticed that the lone traveler, always occupied a removed place in the hotel lobby, the Pullman car, and that his attitude was one of longing for a good pal to cheer him up.

So great was the impression made upon him, that Harris, in Chicago, decided to voice a tangible protest against the loneliness of big cities. His idea was to form a group of individuals and share with them the homely joys of the small town.

With that purpose in view he gathered around him three good friends, who of an evening would join together usually in each other's office or some fraternal restaurant, there to abandon business matters entirely and concern themselves in good-hearted merry-making.

Because the meetings were held at different places, the name Rotary was given the group.

The plan proved popular. New members were taken in, each man representing a distinct craft or profession, a rule which is adhered to today.

Seventeen years have passed. That Harris' plan has succeeded is attested by existence of 1015 clubs scattered in 22 countries with a membership approximating 100,000.

Rotary Week starts February 19 with giant celebrations in every club headquarters over the world to commemorate the anniversary birthday.

Harris is 53, married but has no children. Although he founded the organization his only connection with the international body is that of president emeritus. "It seems but yesterday that I started," he says. "And of the future. Man must forget himself if he wants happiness. Life holds only one thing that counts and that is the appreciation of contact with each other. Friendships are invaluable. That is what Rotary strives for with unselfishness as the underlying working basis.

"We are hearing the great dawn of the brotherhood of man. Yes it is coming."

While the Bermuda Islands consist of 365 islands, the superficial area of the entire group is less than 20 square miles.

GALICIAN CHARGED WITH MISUSING HIS HYPNOTIC POWERS

Criminologists and Psychologists in Germany Make Study of Strange Case

BERLIN. — German criminologists, psychologists, medical and legal experts will hold a "congress" over the case of Leopold Mieroslav Kittay, a Galician, who faces charges of misuse of hypnotic powers. They have been summoned for opinions on psychology, hypnotism, suggestion and mental responsibility of persons who commit crimes while hypnotized.

Kittay, who practiced hypnotism under the name of Le Kittay, is alleged to have influenced his clients to sell or pawn their valuables and give him the money. He will also be held to answer charges of immorality, for he is said to have had great influence over women, one of whom, the wife of a well known merchant, tried to sell her house and furnishings without her husband's knowledge and succeeded in raising a considerable sum which she gave the hypnotist.

He used part of the money in making a brief tour of German cities where he gave public exhibitions of his power over the merchant's wife, who, with a friend, accompanied them.

The complaint against Kittay cites as an example of his influence that he hypnotized a dancing girl while she was on the stage, compelling her to fall asleep and abandon the performance. This girl is said to have detested the hypnotist but could not resist his hypnotic power.

A number of husbands whose wives were addicted to drug habits, appealed to Kittay for assistance and in some instances he is alleged to have put the women to sleep and while in this condition suggested they sell or pawn their own valuables or the property of their husbands, proceeds of which transactions he pocketed.

Kittay's defense will attempt to show the clients themselves were criminally inclined and committed the offense without undue influence on the part of the hypnotist.

Russians Want Cats

In many parts of Russia there is a plague of rats which are devouring food and other articles which the people can little spare at this time. The presence of the rats is said to be due to the fact that the Russians were compelled to eat their cats. Storekeepers are now offering fabulous prices for kittens to guard their stocks of food stuffs.

The familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label is the only form in which Fleischmann's Yeast is sold

Fleischmann's fresh yeast helps digestion and cleans a coated tongue

THOUSANDS of men and women have found relief from various digestive disturbances by eating Fleischmann's Yeast.

It is human nature to want to find out "why." So far as science can tell us this is the reason:

Fleischmann's Yeast is a food abundant in certain elements which are necessary to health and life itself. It promotes the flow of bile and of pancreatic juice. It has a remarkably beneficial effect on the whole digestive system. It cleans a coated tongue.

Try Fleischmann's fresh yeast in orange juice or, if you prefer, in milk. Men like it in milk shakes and malted milks. Women like it spread on bread or crackers.

Keep your digestion in the pink of condition and your tongue clean and healthy by eating 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast fresh every day before or between meals. Get Fleischmann's Yeast fresh daily from your grocer.

We Stop Falling Hair in 2 Weeks

Grow New Hair Within 90 Days—

or Your Money Refunded

This New Way

Science discovers falling, lustreless hair due to simple infection (Sebum). Now quickly overcomes it. Hair actually grown on 91 heads in 100!

This is to offer you new hair—lustrous, beautiful, attractive—or money refunded.

It offers, too, to stop falling hair in 2 weeks.

If we fail, the treatment costs you nothing. Your own druggist signs the guarantee. Hence you assume no risk.

Thousands of women have made this test. Results are amazing. The charm of wonderful hair is now available to any one who chooses to have it.

Why 6 Women in 8 Have Dull, Unattractive Hair

Science has recently made amazing discoveries. It is now known that hair roots seldom die. They can be revived—given new life.

We have proved that conclusively by growing hair on 91 heads in 100.

The method we use is new. Years of exhaustive laboratory experiments were spent perfecting it.

Now world-great dermatologists employ these ingredients. Many charge $500 for the same basic treatment.

Falling hair, dull, lifeless hair; hair without sheen or lustre—6 women in 8 have it.

The reason is a very simple infection. An infected scalp oil called Sebum. This new way quickly overcomes it. It starts to act instantly. The effect is soon marked.

The Infected Sebum in Your Hair

Sebum is an oil. It forms at the follicles of the hair. Its natural function is to supply the hair with oil.

But frequently it becomes infected. It clogs the scalp; clogs the follicles and plugs them. Go to the mirror and you can see it in your hair, either in the form of dandruff or in that of an oily excretion at the hair roots.

Germ by the millions breed in it, then feed upon the hair. Soon your hair begins falling. You note too how lifeless it appears. In a short time, all the natural lustre and beauty are gone.

But—and note this scientific fact—remove the Sebum and the hair reverts back to the softness and brilliancy it displayed when you were a school girl.

The Van Ess treatment accomplishes that result. We know you will doubt it. So we guarantee it.

New hair grown in 90 days. Falling hair stopped in two weeks. Your own druggist gives you our guarantee to do these things. He signs it. If we fail, your money will be refunded without argument.

We urge you to give this new way a fair trial. It is folly not to test it; for remember, you take no risk.

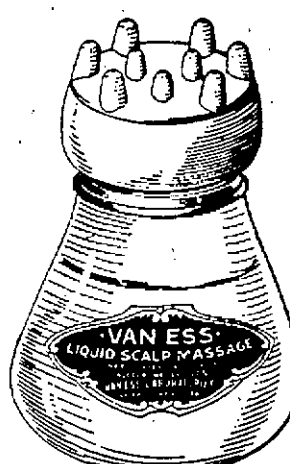

Go to any druggist or department store today. Ask for the Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage. Written guarantee accompanies it.

VAN ESS LABORATORIES

5007 Lake Park Ave. Chicago, Ill.

Pay Nothing

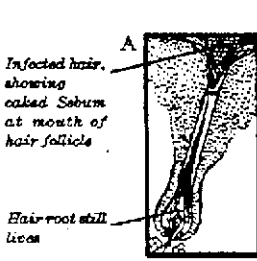

Unless we grow hair. The Van Ess treatment is absolutely guaranteed. You are the sole judge. The warrant is signed by your own druggist. You assume no risk making this test.

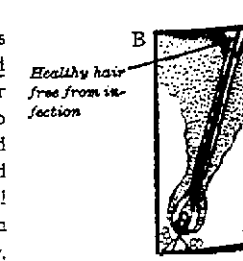

Note This New Way

—It Massages the Treatment Directly into the Follicles of the Hair

You can see from illustration that Van Ess is not a "tonic." It combines a massage and lotion in one treatment. You do not rub it in with your fingers. Each package comes with a rubber massage cap. The dippers are hollow. Just invert bottle, rub your head, and dippers automatically feed lotion down into follicles of the scalp where it can do some good. At the same time the dippers give your head a massage. It is very easy to apply. One minute each day is enough.

These two pictures show a cross section of the hair root or bulb and the case which encloses each hair from the root to surface of scalp (greatly magnified). Germ infected Sebum causes 95% of baldness and falling hair. Remove it and hair will grow. Illustration (A) shows Sebum infected hair and (B) healthy hair.
